President Herzek called the meeting to order at 3:05 PM.

I. The minutes of the meeting held on May 24, 2016 were approved unanimously.

II. Reports

A. President's Report

President Herzek began by sharing points from the CUNY Budget approved by the Board of Trustees to submit to the New York State legislature. The budget is also available online.

This marks the first budget proposal in the new multi-year format, to align with CUNY's four-year plan. CUNY's 'asks' include our unfunded mandatory costs, such as the contract raises. Currently there is a shortfall of $68 million along with fringe and steps; total unfunded personnel costs are $142 million as of 2018. The faculty and academic program investment initiative also includes a reduction in workload at both the senior and community college levels.

The President also discussed the "Bridge to Completion" program: students two semesters away from graduation who are no longer eligible for TAP would get funding for up to two additional semesters.

The Community Colleges are asking for an increase in base aid of $250 per FTE; last year we requested $250 but got only $100 increases. The current funding level is $2697 per FTE, which, adjusted for inflation, is $382 less per student than 2009 levels.

CUNY is asking for “predictable tuition increases” of $250 per year at the senior colleges and $100 per year at the community colleges, with an additional year frozen at the current levels. More specific information and details on the budget are available at the CUNY website.

Turning to Kingsborough, the college is down 1000 FTEs in the past four years, a significant loss of revenue. There are also high expenses in 2016-17 which include faculty and staff increases of more than 100 positions, so this loss is hurting the college right now, especially with no increase in real base aid since 2009. Strategies to help with this include the following:

- The College is looking to increase the international student population
- Workforce development programs to attract nontraditional students as high school classes are shrinking
- Increasing the College’s presence in fully online and hybrid courses
- Increasing enrollment through increased outreach at high school campuses.

Last week the President sent out a campus-wide email regarding the impact of the 2016 election results on our student body. He also held meetings with the leadership of several student clubs to see how they were feeling, and to assure them that they are welcome and that we are supportive. Some students, especially undocumented immigrants, raised fears and concerns about their status. But all stated that they feel safe, welcome and supported by faculty and staff at the KCC campus. Some expressed unease about safety issues when traveling to campus, but not here at the college. Some are even forming a support group on campus.

The Chancellor and CUNY are also discussing resources that will be made available to students.

There was one incident of anti-black graffiti in a campus bathroom, which was immediately locked. Public Safety informed the NYPD who classified it as a hate crime; evidence was taken; and afterwards B&G personnel cleaned away the graffiti. They are actively checking for any recurrence.

Finally, in the meeting with student leaders it was especially gratifying to see how our students are supportive of each other and will ‘watch each others’ backs.’

B. Curriculum Committee Report

III. New Business

Prof. Kay Conway, chair of the CUNY University Faculty Senate, addressed the College Council and made the following remarks:

As UFS chair, she represents all CUNY faculty. At any time, we should feel free to reach out and contact her with any questions. Her position is different from the PSC union; she participates in shared governance, dealing with policies which relate to academics.

The recent COACHE survey was the first at CUNY to include community college faculty. The UFS got agreement from CUNY Central to share the survey results with the campuses and not just each campus' Provost's Office.

The UFS is currently trying to identify issues affecting all CUNY campuses and increase faculty satisfaction. One issue is Associate Professors being frustrated with their slow progression to Full Professor. Now we have a CUNY Dean of Faculty who meets with two representatives from each campus on improving faculty support. Also issues of mentoring are coming to the forefront.

The PMP measures the performance of Presidents and campuses regarding certain measures and metrics, such as graduation and retention, and faculty and staff diversity. The UFS seeks to add increasing full-time CUNY faculty to this, despite the current budgetary environment. The UFS will communicate with the chancellor about this issue.

Regarding the Budget, the UFS chair sits on the fiscal committee ex officio. The current budget proposal supports a reduction in faculty teaching loads and asks New York City to pay for this budget item, not NY state. Hopefully Mayor DeBlasio may come across with these funds.

As President Herzek noted, in terms of FTE funding, CUNY is worse off than it was in 2009. The UFS is working towards more budget transparency so that faculty at each campus will be better-versed in what campus resources and expenditures are. It improves the environment for all of us when we understand budgetary constraints and how allocation decisions are made.

The CUNY Budget mentions Online Education 79 times. The UFS hopes to draft a policy paper to get out in front of any CUNY policies on online education, because there will be issues we must be aware of before major changes are made.

In terms of experiential learning, there is faculty concern that instituting this as a graduation requirement would be an obstacle for our students, and might take away from faculty control over curriculum.

Finally, chair Conway said she hopes we being kept apprised of ongoing UFS efforts by our campus delegates, Don Hume and Michael Barnhart in particular.

The meeting adjourned at 4:00 PM.

Respectfully submitted,

Michael Sokolow
