RE: Change in title and course description HIS 2000

The Department of History is proposing a change in title and course description

FROM:

HIS 2000: The Immigrant in American Society

Changing immigration pattern from the 17th century to the present. Immigrants, their motives and ambitions (background, role in American society, and contributions to American life).

TO:

HIS 2000: U.S. Immigration History

This course explores the history of migration to the United States. It investigates the experiences of diverse groups of migrants and examines the interactions between migrants and the nation, exploring the changing meanings of "foreign" and "American."

Rationale for Change:

The changes better align with current terminology and what material is covered as the course is currently taught.
