

KINGSBOROUGH COLLEGE NOW

A Successful Year in Review!

Despite these unforeseen times, Kingsborough College Now has managed to have one successful year. We have embarked on new and exciting programs, as well as continued success with enrollment in College Now courses in our participating schools.

“The College Now program at Kingsborough has been an invaluable resource for the students at Abraham Lincoln High School. Many of our students are new to the country and first-generation college students; taking College Now classes gives them the experience and confidence that they need to be successful beyond high school. The KCC College Now team have gone above and beyond to ensure that our students are offered a variety of classes and that they have supports to transition into college life.” -Neal Green, College Now Program Coordinator, and Political Science Adjunct Lecturer, Abraham Lincoln High School

“College Now helped me better understand how to better prepare for college. The zoom meeting lessons, written assignments, and revisions to the work submitted helped me improve both in proper online participation etiquette, and techniques and also in my writing skills” -Manuchekhr Saidzoda, College Now Student, James Madison High School
